MTB 16 hairpin bends up to the charming alpine pasture high above Drena.

Starting from Arco, cycle the first eight flat kilometres through the Sarca Valley between grapevines and apple trees, before beginning the first climb up to Drena. You then pass through the village. After its last houses, take the road that leads to Malga Campo. A carved wooden board at the start describes the route: sixteen hairpin bends, all with names, lead in a constant gradient up to the alpine pasture, from which you can enjoy a fantastic view over to the Brenta group. You could have cycled this far on a road bike, but from here things continue on gravel paths. Initially they are level and cross alpine meadows, but they get steeper as they pass forests and rocky terrain until you arrive at the highest point of the tour at a prominent wayside cross. Then begins the long descent via Carobbi to Braila, from which you can coast back to Arco on tarmacked minor roads.
