MTB Varied exploratory circuit with an interesting variant

The Passo Udalrico crosses from Drena over into the Valle di Cavedine. This you reach after just over four kilometres on minor roads with little traffic. From the pass, turn left along a road to Chiesetta di Maria Ausiliatrice, passing a lovely set of stations of the cross. Then, a few bends further on, take a forest track and enter the woods. You then coast easily downhill until, after about 9 km, you have the choice of descending via a short, easy trail to the road that leads back towards Drena, or to tackle the appealing San Siro variant. The route back to Drena involves ups and downs on different surfaces and paths, all the time enjoying a beautiful view of Lago di Cavedine and the landscape of the Marocche. Right at the end you climb up the road to Drena Castle.
